What do I want to learn or understand better?

In the first week, we have been introduced to the concept of Scrum. This is completely new for me and I do not know much about it and how it can be used for a successful developing process. After doing the Minetest exercise, I got a basic understanding for the Scrum methodology. For the coming weeks and sprints, I want to fully understand the framework of Scrum and be able to use it. To accomplish this, I need to understand all the key rules, which I think I can learn by working with it.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

I may be able to help the team with my experiences with programming.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

When doing the Minetest exercise, I would say that my contribution to the team was to (together with the team) try to understand all the steps in one sprint. For the coming sprints, I want to be able to apply these steps correctly. As said, I can accomplish this by understand the key rules. And that can be done by working with it.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

My contribution to the team's deliveries this week has been to create the social contract together with the team. For the upcoming weeks I want to actively participate on the deliveries that we will make. I can do this by continue to attend meetings, contribute with ideas and work on the project.
