What do I want to learn or understand better?

During the first week I was introduced to the concept of scrum. I have heard about the scrum way of working before but the first week was great as and during the Minetest exercise it was a great opportunity to try the scrum methodology. Hopefully during this course and the project, I will be able to learn all about the methodology and work with it in an SE environment.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

Since I don't have that much experience of programming outside of school nor have I any previous experience of working with scrum, I want to be able to contribute by assisting the team as much as possible.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

During the Minetest exercise I contributed by assessing the teams velocity and suggesting user stories that I believed matched the velocity and the available resources in the game. I was also the one who was in primary contact with the product owner.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

This week's contribution has primarily been the social contract which I partially contributed to along with the rest of the team. As this is the first week we haven't really started but I looked around for potential projects which could be fun for our team to do.
