What do I want to learn or understand better?

This was the last sprint of this project and we were able to deliver everything in time. I think it has been a very valuable course, what I would like to understand better though is how the team should handle unexpected events that affects the velocity and how and when resources should be redistributed to limit the impact.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

I think that again, resources that I am able to find as I do my research for a new task can be very valuable to the other members as well. I also think I am a good person for others to discuss how to go about solving a user story / task with.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

Again, I have participated in all meetings - planning, review and daily. I also arranged two meetings with our stakeholder, one on Wednesday where the purpose was to make sure that we agreed on the prioritization of work. I participated in defining user stories and estimating their costs.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

This sprint I participated in the work to get the search results to show, which they eventually actually did. I helped a bit with the tag filtration that Elvina has been working on and over all, helped the other members whenever it was needed.
